Jack has a very interesting life.

He is 38 years old.

He lives in a small town in California.

He hasn't been married yet, and he has a beautiful girlfriend named Carol.

They live together in a house near the beach.

Why is his life so interesting?

Well, here is a description of Jack and Carol's daily routine –

They wake up early – at about 7 o'clock.

At about 7h30 they have a short breakfast and go running.

They run until 8h30, then, they go swimming in the ocean.

At around 9 they get back to the house, take a shower, have a quick second breakfast and go to work.

Both Jack and Carol work from home.

They work online.

Each one has their own home office in the house.

They have many clients and help lots of people on the internet.

Jack answers emails from 9 to 10.

He starts recording videos for his clients at 10h15.

He finishes recording the videos at 12h.

Then, he has some online meetings with some business

💡 SACADA DE OURO DO PROFESSOR LEO

"Preste muita atenção nessa história do Jack e da Carol: não tente traduzir "take a shower" ou "have lunch" palavra por palavra como se estivesse montando um quebra-cabeça de gramática na sua cabeça. O cérebro que traduz é um cérebro que gagueja e cansa! Quando você escutar "they wake up early" ou "go running", veja a cena diante dos seus olhos: o casal calçando o tênis, o sol batendo na praia da Califórnia, o café quente na caneca. A língua inglesa não mora no dicionário, ela mora no filme mental que você cria enquanto fala. Quando você responde às perguntas e dispara os gatilhos no Listen & Ask, você não está fazendo exercício de inglês; você está contando a rotina de dois amigos da forma mais natural e gostosa do mundo. Solte os ombros, sinta a melodia dos chunks e deixe a boca falar antes que a dúvida te trave!"
